On Meadowlands Pace Night, Alagna made a powerful statement when Ramona Hill pulled an 8-1 upset from post ten in the $253,500 Del Miller Memorial in 1:50.3. Angers Bayama took a mark of 1:48 for Team Alagna with a :25.4 final quarter. That four-year-old son of Big Jim made it three in a row with a 1:48.3 tally in the Hambletonian Day opener. Alagna added to his reputation for developing major young stars in 2017 by pulling a Breeders Crown upset with Stay Hungry, and the two-year-old son of Somebeachsomewhere finished a close second in the Governor's Cup. Alagna also campaigned two-time O'Brien Award winner Caprice Hill.

Alagna maintained his status as a top producer of stakes winners in 2014 with another promising contingent of two-year-olds, including the standout Artspeak. His stable passed the $3 million mark for the fourth straight year. Following a breakout season in 2012, Alagna's career soared in 2013 with the spotlight shining brightly on his two-time Pacer of the Year and triple millionaire Captaintreacherous. "The Captain" helped Alagna vault past the $5 million mark for the first time and he won over 100 races for the third straight season. Captaintreacherous more than lived up to his press clippings in 2013, emerging with a stellar season that included major wins in the North America Cup, Max Hempt Memorial, Meadowlands Pace, Cane Pace, Bluegrass, Tattersalls and Breeders Crown. The 1:47.1 performer fashioned a $2 million season and became the first horse since the great Niatross to be named Pacer of the Year back-to-back at ages two and three.

Alagna was born into the racing business, and by age eight he was working side by side with his parents who trained a large stable of horses in Urbana, Illinois. His mother, Donna Lee Ozment, still trains in Chicago. Alagna worked for the late Brian Pinsky, Doc and Pat Walker's Fox Valley Standardbred Stables and Erv Miller before making the decision, at age 37, to strike out on his own in 2009. He started with three horses and one employee, and peaked at 90 horses and 20 employees. The 45-year-old from Champaign, Illinois is stabled at Gaitway Farm in Englishtown, NJ, and has attracted high profile owners such as Brittany Farms.

In 2023, the United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA), in conjunction with the Harness Racing Hall of Fame announced the election of trainer Jim Campbell to the greatest honor in the industry, membership in the Living Hall of Fame in Goshen, N.Y.

Overall, Campbell won 42 races and $1,549,622 in 2023, and he passed the $54 million mark in career purse earnings. His top horses included Once In A Lifetime, Greenspan, Walcango, Smart Schooner, Stormcloudfashion, Santa Croce, Wild Bill Kelso, Executive Game and Take All Comers.

Jim Campbell, the winner of the 2022 Glen Garnsey Trainer of the Year Award, had a UTRS of .428, and put up his third-best seasonal earnings figure, nearing $2.9M, after starting far fewer horses than he did in his two best years for earnings.

Campbell earned $750,000 of that lofty earnings figure in the space of two hours on August 6 at the Meadowlands, where he became only the third trainer to send out the winners of the Hambletonian (Cool Papa Bell) and the Hambletonian Oaks (Fashion Schooner) in one year. Fashion Schooner overcame the outside post ten in the Oaks, while in the Hambo Cool Papa Bell overcame 52-1 odds with a big late burst to win the prestigious sophomore trot as the longest shot in the race's 97-year history. Campbell had previously won the 1995 edition with his Hall of Famer brother John driving Tagliabue. Cool Papa Bell was voted a 2022 Dan Patch Award winner.

Campbell also campaigned Next Level Stuff, a trotting mare who defeated Trotter of the Year Bella Bellini twice in the Miss Versatility Series, and his Once In A Lifetime was victorious in the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes Championship for two-year-old trotting colts. And his "Big Two" also won their Sire Stakes Championships (Cool Papa Bell in New York, Fashion Schooner in New Jersey).

"I started off working for my dad, Jack, and raced mostly at Windsor Raceway. I both drove and trained. John was at the Meadowlands and was quite successful. That was the big time. Dad suggested that I might broaden my experience if I went down there and worked with him. At the time, he had his own stable in addition to being a top catch driver. I worked for John and learned a great deal from him — mostly how to work with trotters and high-level horses. There is a difference. I kept learning from John until the day he retired. I then went to work for Glen Garnsey where I was a second trainer. I was with him when he had many good horses for the Armstrong Brothers. I got to know Dr. Glen Brown and to this day I have a great deal of respect for that man. I then went out on my own.

"Talk about some rain falling in a dry place. I was down to five horses in my stable. Jules and Arlene Siegel were looking for a trainer for their horses. Fred Grant and Wally Hennessey put in the good word and recommended me. The rest is history. We've been together through 27 years — some lean, many of them fairly successful. Even in the poorer years, we've always had a horse or two that allowed the sun to shine. They are among the greatest people I've ever known, either in or out of the horse business."

Jim Campbell's oldest client is the Farber family for whom he has had horses for 35 years beginning with the late Sandy and now on to the next generation with his son, Scott, for whom he won the Breeders Crown with his homebred Sebastian K filly Next Level Stuff in an emotionally-packed winner's circle. Fast forward to 2022 when Campbell and Scott Farber hoisted the Hambletonian trophy together.

Daley's Pebble Beach and Volume Eight were both voted 2022 Dan Patch Award winners. Pebble Beach was the second richest horse in the sport with $1.35 million and finished no worse than second in 16 of 18, winning 10. Volume Eight was the fastest 2-year-old trotter of the season, with a mark of 1:52.

Noel Daley continued his comeback in America in 2021 with Grand Circuit stakes winner Palermo Hanover, a two-year-old Father Patrick filly, who went two-for-two at The Red Mile. Daley also campaigned world champion two-year-old pacer Pebble Beach, Kentucky Championship Series Final winner in 1:48.3, and Breeders Crown runner up Anoka Hanover. Daley passed the $20 million mark at The Big M and has amassed $64 million in his career overall, which ranks him sixth all-time.

Daley was all set to launch his first full season in 2020 since returning to the US late in 2019, until the pandemic hit. She also finished second in the James Lynch Memorial, Shady Daisy, Glen Garnsey and Breeders Crown. Daley also passed 2,500 career wins and $60 million.

After working for the sport's all-time money winner Brett Pelling, Noel Daley established one of the most successful stables at the Meadowlands and beyond.

Daley grew up in Mt. Isa, Australia, where he worked for Qantas Airlines. He began working with horses when he came to the United States and first settled at Los Alamitos racetrack in California. Daley shipped east in 1990 to work as a caretaker in the Brett Pelling Stable. He stayed with Pelling for eight years, working his way up to second trainer. He enjoyed much success as the Pelling stable dominated at the Meadowlands in the 1990s, winning the training title six times. The two trainers parted ways in 1998 and Daley quickly filled a stable with the help of owner and friend Adam Victor and his son, Adam Victor, Jr. He won his first Meadowlands training title in 2003.

Daley won the biggest race of his career in 2011 when Broad Bahn went all the way to capture the $1.5 million Hambletonian. The son of Broadway Hall earned $1.5 million and a Dan Patch Award, along with another Daley trainee, Cedar Dove, a Breeders Crown runner up in 2013.

His greatest success stories have been Mr Musclemann ($3,582,823), a three-time Dan Patch Award winner and the 2005 Trotter of the Year, and two-time Dan Patch Award winning mare My Little Dragon ($2,318,623).

Drennan has enjoyed success teaming with veteran driver George Brennan, who explained: "It goes way back to when Nik was a kid working for Tony Montini and I was driving for him then, and then he went on his own and I continued driving for him and did well."

In 2007, Drennan moved to the States from Canada to work for Montini and run his New Jersey operation. A few years later, when Drennan went on his own, Brennan was one of the many drivers he used at The Big M.

"Alexie Mattosie won the 2011 William Haughton Memorial for me 10 years ago, and Brennan drove him for me," said Drennan. "We weren't really close friends back then, but over the years, we've become pretty good friends."

The rise of Per Engblom continued in 2023. His stable finished third at The Big M with 38 wins and $665,359. Overall, Engblom recorded personal highs of 363 wins and $6,097,248. He was the top trainer at Yonkers Raceway with 231 wins and $3,834,415 and finished third at Harrah's Philadelphia. Overall in 2021, Engblom sent out 341 starters, won 65 races and $1,670,149. Beads came back as a four-year-old in 2021 to pull a post ten upset in the Hambletonian Maturity and added another $370,000 to his earnings.

Beads had a quarter million dollar sophomore season in 2020, winning the Muscle Hill in 1:51.2.

Per Engblom started his own stable in 2019 after spending six years as the top assistant to Hall of Fame trainer Jimmy Takter. The Takter Stable won 19 of its record 34 Breeders Crown trophies during that time frame.

Engblom made his Breeders Crown debut in 2019 and had five finalists. His best finish came with Synergy in the 2-year-old colt-and-gelding trot. Synergy won his elimination and was fifth in the final. Two-year-old filly trotter Ms Savannah Belle also was an elim winner. She finished seventh in her final.

In 2019, Engblom won 72 races and $2.81 million in purses, and in 2020 he won 35 races and $1.47 million.

Engblom grew up in Mantorp, Sweden, which is also Takter's birthplace. Both men began their careers at the local racetrack, which was started by a group that included Engblom's grandfather, Bengt Engblom. Per Engblom's father, Raoul, also is a trainer.

This is Enblom's second stint in the U.S. He was 19 when he came to the States for the first time. His sister, Pernilla, worked for Takter and the stable needed additional help. Engblom worked as a groom for two years before assisting with training for another three years. He then returned home to Sweden, where he was the private trainer for Stall Tilly, and later worked in Italy before starting his own public stable.

At the beginning of 2012, Engblom and his wife, Helene, decided to move to the U.S. with their then 4-year-old son, Tom, who was ready to start school. Engblom worked for a year with trainer Tony Alagna before returning to the Takter Stable, where Helene joined him.

Mark Ford posted numbers comparable to his previous season with 61 wins and $1,185,114 in 2022. Ford also passed the $68 million mark in career earnings.

In 2021, Mark Ford passed the 4,000-win plateau and $67 million in earnings, which ranks him fifth all-time. Ford's stable also went past the $1 million mark for the twentieth season.

Ford completed the 2020 season with 3,946 career wins and went past the $66 million career earnings mark.

Ford continued to close in on the 4,000-win plateau and passed $65 million in career earning in 2019.

In 2017, Ford maintained his busy schedule as trainer, training center proprietor and President of the SBOA of New Jersey. Ford earned more than $1 million for the eighteenth year in a row. Ford's career totals went past 3,700 wins and $63 million.

Ford sent out his 6,000th Meadowlands starter in 2016, and also passed 25,000 career starts and 3,600 wins. Ford's stable passed the $1 million mark for the 17th consecutive season. It was also Ford's first full year as President of the Standardbred Breeders & Owners Association of New Jersey.

Ford set career highs of 299 wins and $5,236,730 in 2010 led by New Jersey Sire Stakes two-year-old filly pacing champion Ace Of Pace. Also that year, Ford became the first trainer to pass $40 million before the age of 40, and only the sixth trainer to hit that milestone.

Ford owns a 200-horse state-of-the-art training center in upstate New York. A native of West Virginia, Ford passed up an agricultural scholarship in England, and instead traveled to Florida after high school to work with Clint Galbraith. He moved to the New York/ New Jersey area in 1990 and eventually met Ted Wing, who became a big influence on him. He also credits Ray Schnittker with assistance on his road to stardom.

Ford stepped into the national spotlight thanks to the pacing gelding Gallo Blue Chip, the 2000 Horse of the Year, who became the richest pacer in the history of the sport with $4.26 million in earnings. He is also noted for conditioning millionaires Whosurboy, Turnpike Token, Ambro Animate, Stonebridge Kisses and Self Professed, as well as On The Attack.

Ford was named co-winner (along with Jimmy Takter) of the 2000 Glen Garnsey Trainer of the Year Award by the United States Harness Writers' Association.

One of Ford's first success stories was the purchase of the durable double-gaited Six Day War, for whom he paid just $12,000. Six Day War earned more than $400,000 on the pace and nearly $90,000 on the trot. "There would never have been a Gallo Blue Chip without Six Day War," said Ford, who admitted the horse was responsible for unequivocally changing his life. Ford was just 23 in May of 1994 when he scraped together $12,000 — virtually every dollar he had — and risked it all to purchase Six Day War, a double-gaited son of Nihilator out of Pampered Lady. "I'm not going to say we weren't going to eat the next day, but we were going to have to decide what we were going to eat," Ford said, adding that Six Day War was the horse that determined whether he would continue to have a career in harness racing or be forced to find a different line of work. "It was either stay or not stay. We got him straightened out and he was, in reality, nothing more than a 20 claimer, but he put a lot of money on the table at the right time for a 22- or 23-year-old guy just getting started," Ford said.

In 2023, Andrew Harris won 50 races and $1,686,739, and he passed the $20 million mark in career purse earnings. His top horses included Abuckabett Hanover, Seven Colors, Timestorm, Tyga Hanover, Legal Scholar, Arden Messi N and El Rey.

Andrew Harris won 80 races and $1.4 million in purses in 2022. Harris also passed 1,000 career wins and $18 million in career purse earnings.

Andrew Harris scaled back his activity at the Meadowlands in 2021, yet overall his stable won 100 races and $1,891,861. Some of his noteworthy Big M performers were Deltasun A, Pappy Go Go, Lovely Donna and San Domino A.

Harris sent out None Bettor A, who won the Quillen Memorial at Harrington in 1:49.4 on September 20, and the next day guided the Somebeachsomewhere mare Silver Tail from out of the clouds at Pocono Downs to post his first driving success in 12 years.

Harris captured his first Meadowlands training title during the Fall Meet of 2019 with 18 wins and $288,361. Then, Harris finished third during the 2020 Championship Meet with 24 wins and $394,377, and in the Big M's Top Five overall in 2020 with 32 wins and $506,472. His top horses included Tricky Sister, None Bettor A, San Domino A and Elysium Lindy. The Harris Stable sent out 151 winners and banked $2.4 million in 2020. It was the fourth straight season Harris passed the $2 million mark.

The Andrew Harris Stable passed the $2 million mark for the third straight year in 2019. Harris campaigned Open pacer and 1:49.3 performer Trump Nation at The Big M, and Solsbury Hill won a James Doherty Memorial elimination in 1:55.3.

In 2018, Harris flew past 100 wins and the $2 million mark for the second consecutive season. His top performers included Perfect Summer K and Cruising In Style. He also handled the US training duties for sophomore stakes star Jimmy Freight and Hambletonian elimination starter Lawmaker.

In 2018, Harris housed and handled Lawmaker when racing stateside. Harris, a former assistant to star Canadian trainer Casie Coleman, made his second appearance in the Hambletonian, finishing fourth in 2016 with Waitlifter K (to Marion Marauder). Harris followed his father, Jack, and grandfather, Ron, into the sport.

Harris saw himself on the biggest stage in 2016 when he sent the three-year-old trotter Waitlifter K postward in the Hambletonian. It was an unexpected position to be in, but Harris acquitted himself rather well at the highest level. "He just turned out to be fourth or fifth best. He wasn't as good as Marion Marauder, Bar Hopping or Southwind Frank," said Harris of the colt who went back with trainer Rich Gillock.

Harris had a breakout year in 2016 that saw his stable earn above $1.5 million, the first time he exceeded the seven-figure mark and more than double any of his previous yearly earnings. With 91 winners, Harris surpassed his win output from both 2014-15 combined.

Based at White Birch Farm, Harris has committed to a strong racehorse stable, but also has aspirations of hitting a home run with the youngsters. His understanding of the dynamics of a racehorse stable combined with his ability to focus in on quality young horses and bring out the best, are sure signs he has attracted stakes caliber horses.

The wife of trainer Andrew Harris, Amanda was diagnosed with breast cancer in March 2015. After 12 rounds of chemotherapy doctors reported her tumor had shrunk significantly, and a fundraising effort was launched. Sadly, Amanda passed away on February 15, 2020 at age 34.

Holloway teamed up with David Rovine to dominate the Meadowlands in the eighties and set a record for wins in a single meet in 1987 with 106.

In the mid-nineties, Holloway campaigned the three-time Dan Patch Award winner and legendary pacer Jenna's Beach Boy. His other top horses include She's A Great Lady, Tooter Scooter, Florida Jewel, Lady Macbeach and Always A Virgin. He pulled an upset in the 2010 Hambletonian Oaks with Bar Slide.

Nancy also trained the great trotting mare Manchego, whose 1:49.3 victory at Plainridge, a 5/8-mile track, was not only the sole sub-1:50 trot of the year, but probably the most impressive trotting mile of all. There was also Kissin In The Sand, who capped her year with seven straight wins against the top older pacing mares including her Breeders Crown, and Hambletonian Oaks champion Sorella, and Governor's Cup winner Always A Miki.

Nancy emerged from the shadow of her Hall of Fame father Jimmy Takter to compete successfully at the Grand Circuit level. Toscano enjoyed a dream season in 2012 when she was voted Trainer of the Year, campaigned Horse of the Year Chapter Seven, became the first female trainer to win the $1.5 million Hambletonian with Market Share and banked $6 million for the first time. The millionaire four-year-old trotter Chapter Seven blazed a world record of 1:50.1 winning the Nat Ray. Toscano also won a New Jersey Sires Stakes final for two-year-old trotting fillies with Southwind Cocoa. She sent out a pair of top flight three-year-old pacers in Heston Blue Chip and Bettors Edge, plus freshman pacing star Doctor Butch.

The breast cancer survivor started attending the races some 40 years ago when her father would take her to Roosevelt and Yonkers Raceways. She got her start with Buddy Regan in New York, and also worked with John Campbell when he had a stable. She went out on her own in 1984 and was the leading trainer in her home state before moving full-time to the Meadowlands in 1988.

The Rutgers Equine Science Center named Toscano the 2013 recipient of their annual 'Spirit of the Horse' award, which recognizes individuals whose lives have been profoundly changed because of their involvement with horses and who have acknowledged the impact by giving back to the horse industry.

Toscano became the first woman to harness a Breeders Crown winner with Molly Can Do It in the 2002 Mares Pace. Molly Can Do It entered Toscano's barn at the end of her four-year-old season and banked more than $700,000 from 2002 to 2004.

Lucas Wallin enjoyed the best season of his young career, winning 44 races and $1,726,586. Wallin's top horses were Dan Patch Award winner Soiree Hanover, D'Apper, Double Dippin and Devilish Hill.

Lucas Wallin continued his ascent into trotting's upper echelon in 2022. Over the last couple of years Wallin has shown himself to be a master handler of stakes trotting stock, and he comes off of by far his best year -- with only 135 starters, his stable earned almost $1.7 million (34 wins). Among the talent he has developed is Rebuff, one of his division's top trotting males both last year and this. Rebuff equaled a Meadowlands track record of 1:49.4 in a division of the Stanley Dancer Memorial. Wallin also trained the two winners of their $253,000 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes Championships for three-year-old trotters with Pour Mea Double conquering the males and Manon beat the females.

Lucas Wallin is one the young guns from Sweden. He posted his first $1 million season as a trainer in 2021, and won his first Breeders Crown with Rebuff, who was driven by Tim Tetrick. That three-year-old son of Muscle Hill is now one of the top prospects for the 2022 Hambletonian. Some of Wallin's other big moments came with Hambletonian finalist Cuatro De Julio. That three-year-old son of Trixton won a Breeders Crown elimination in 1:52.2 and finished fourth in that final. Trained by Marie Otolan Bar, Cuatro De Julio took a mark of 1:51 at The Red Mile where he was also second by a nose in the 1:49.3 Kentucky Championship Series Final. At The Big M, he won a division of New Jersey Sires Stakes in 1:53.1 and was second by a neck in that final in 1:52.2.

In 2020, Wallin won the New Jersey Sire Stakes championship for three-year-old filly trotters at the Meadowlands with Ab'sattitudexpress. That Trixton filly also took a mark of 1:51.4 in a division of the Bluegrass, and finished third in both the Breeders Crown and Matron.

Lucas Wallin had two finalists in the 2019 Hambletonian Oaks. Princess Deo finished fifth and Queen Of Trix finished sixth. Each filly finished third in her elimination.

In 2018, Wallin started Winbak Noelle in the Oaks elims, but failed to reach the final.

Wallin grew up in Sweden, where he was driving ponies at the age of eight. Several years later, he began helping at his uncle Joakim Wallin's stable.

In mid-2014, Wallin was alerted to an opportunity to work for Ake Svanstedt's stable in the U.S. by childhood friend Oskar Florhed. Wallin spent two years with Svanstedt before deciding to go on his own.
